

SEAL THE DEAL, SINGAPORE

Seal the Deal! is the United Nations-led campaign to promote a definitive agreement on climate change when governments meet in Copenhagen from 7 to 18 December 2009. Endorsed by H.E. Ban Ki Moon, UN Secretary General, this powerful campaign will provide a framework for UN advocacy on climate change in 2009. Seal the Deal! campaign is designed to mobilize everyone including political leaders, business sector, NGOs, women's groups and youth organizations including the civil society on an ambitious, global scale movement to apply pressure to act on the issue of climate change.

The National Youth Achievement Award Council of Singapore supports the UN's initiative and launched the Singapore Seal the Deal! Campaign on 2 October 2009 at the Temasek Polytechnic held in conjunction with the 9th National Youth Achievement Award Gold Award Presentation Ceremony.

The Seal the Deal! Campaign in Singapore was officially launched by H.E. Mr Mah Bow Tan, Minister for National Development and Co-Chairman, Inter-Ministerial Committee on Sustainable Development together with a group of Singapore Members of Parliament. After the launch, community leaders and student leaders joined in to imprint the Seal the Deal! stamp and sign the petition to encourage governments around the world to act on the issue of climate change.

Following the launch of the Seal the Deal! Campaign in Singapore by the Minister and Members of Parliament, the banners will be circulated to schools and tertiary institutions.

H.E. Mr Mah Bow Tan, Minister for National Development and Co-Chairman, The Inter-Ministerial Committee on Sustainable Development putting an imprint of the Seal the Deal! stamp on the Singapore banner. Looking on are Singapore Members of Parliament.

Minister Mah Bow Tan signing the Seal the Deal! imprint on the banner.

Minister Mah Bow Tan inserting the signed petition into the Seal the Deal! box and officially launching the Seal the Deal! Campaign in Singapore.